Mr. Stratton stated that President Reed had not seen him, and he did not know whether he bad seen any other member of the Street Committee. He had offered the resolution at the request of the City Engineer and in the interests of the residents of his ward. He had visited the house of Mr. Petticolas on Wednesday and inspected the crack on his property. He went there again yesterday, when he discovered that the crack had considerably widened. The bricks in the yard pavement had gone down and if a small child should happen to step into one of these cracks it would be very apt to bresk a leg. In regard to making the tunnel safe he wanted to know if this could not be done by lining the opening with masonry work.

Mr. Preston Belvin stated that Mr. Reed.

Mr. Freston Belvin stated that Mr. Reed, the president of the company, would be in the city by the time designated for the meeting of the joint committee, which he had been told was July 15th. Mr. Simmone, one of the stockholders, who lives in New Jersey, had recently passed through some financial difficulties which necessarily delayed work to some extent.

Mr. Belvin said the work so far had cost about $85,000 to citizens of Richmond, and over $45,000 had been spent by one gentleman alone. He added that an English company had been backing the company, but did not want to put in any money until Simmons had emerged from his financial embarrassment. This had recently occurred, and bonds were now in London ready to be placed. He thought that the little black-bear in Forest-Hill Park died from the effects of blows received by being chunked with missiles.

Mrs. Proses-Hill Park died from the effects financial difficulties which necessarily de-layed work to some extent.

Mr. Belvin said the work so far had cost about $65,000 to citizens of Richmond, and over $65,000 had been spent by one gentleman alone. He added that an Eng-lish company had been backing the com-pany, but did not want to put in any money until Simmons had emerged from his financial embarrassment. This had recently occurred, and bonds were now in London ready to be placed. He thought the company was now prepared and ready to push the work and make the tunnel good in the manner prescribed by the charter.

With this information from such sources

With this information from such sources a general discussion was brought up, and Mr. Stratton was the first on the floor. He wanted to know if it was true that the company braced the tunnel with old timbers in the beginning. Colonel Cutshaw stated that that was a question he could not answer; he could only speak of their present condition.

Upon inquiry as what course the company would probably pursue if left to them. Mr. Belvin said that he was not prepared to say what Mr. Reid would propose, but that the latter claimed the company was ready to resume the work. Mr. Belvin here requested the committee to postpone action until next Saturday, in order to give Mr. Reid an opportunity to come to Richmond and present his own views.

Mr. Curtis was of the opinion that this courtesy should be extended Mr. Reed and successed such a procedure graning to Golonel Cutshaw the privilege of taking such steps as he might deem necessary to protect the property of those living on the atreet. The engineer here said it would take at least two or three months to wall the tunnel with masonry.

In answer to a question Mr. Belvin asserted that he thought the company was ready to arch the tunnel at once.

make in a day. He said he could come mence at 8 o'clock this morning with fifty hands and twenty-five carts and could do considerable good within a day or two, but most of the dirt would necessarily have to be hauled a great distance. In the first place, he said, he thought, it would be absolutely necessary to barricade the street and baye the heart.

At this point Mr. Curtis offered a motion to adjourn to meet again on Saturday eve-ning at 6 o'clock, with the instruction that the City Engineer should take such action as he should deem necessary in the mean time.

This was opposed by one or two, who thought that the matter was one too apparent of danger to be deferred at all.

Mr. Turpin took a very adverse ground to proceeding to fill the tunnel at once, stating that these men had put out $55,000 in money to do the work, and he doubted if the committee had the authority to have the tunnel filled. The Council might have but he wanted the advice of the City Attorney.

Mr. Gray asked who would be responsible if a house were to fall and kill some one, and the chairman answered that he was of opinion the city would be the direct source of resort for damage.

Mr. Turpin was satisfied the body should not go ahead with any work without the advice of the City Attorney, and stated that he would absent himself from the

"Yes: a speculative investment," returned Mr. Gray. "These speculations are all called investments."

A resolution by Mr. Stratton making an appropriation of $7,000 for the purpose of filing the tunnel was not passed, and Mr. Curtis's motion to adjourn was amended so that the adjournment be till Monday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

The amendment was seconded and the Clerk ordered to call the roll. The following gentlemen were in favor of the post-ponement of action until Monday: Messrs. Bahen, Curtis, Turpin, Hargrove, Christian, Carneal, and Steel. Those opposed were: Messrs. Gray, Stratton, Thomas, and Capers.

At the next meeting, it is hoped, the president of the Richmond and Chesa-peake Railroad Company will be present, and that speedy action will be taken.

The street will be barricaded this morning, and Colonel Cutshaw will advise such families to move as he thinks are in immediate danger. The property-owners are very much wrought up, and unless prompt and vigorous steps are taken to properly repair the street legal proceedings will probably be instituted.

vassa-Three Victims on Board. vassa—Three Victims on Board.

Baltimore, July 9.—The bark Albemarle,
Captain Forbes, arrived from Navassa Island this atternoon and anchored in the lower harbor. She brought 153 colored laborers and some officers. The Albemarle brought no cargo, as she remained at the island but five days. In the hold are three metallic coffins containing the remains of Thomas N. Foster, Joseph Fales, and James
Mahon, victims of the massacre of September 14, 1839.

TROUBLESOME LABORERS.

The colored laborers brought back ar The colored laborers brought back are the ones who have given so much trouble on the island, and whose threats promised to lead to a repetition of the massacre of September 14, 1889. The United States man-of-war Kearsarge was sent to Navassa, where Commander Elmer landed his marine guard and kept them ashore for seven weeks up to June 20th. He took on board Wilham Harrison and John H. Hall, who, it was charged, were ringleaders in a conspiracy to commit murder. Both men were kept in irons on board the war-ship until transferred to the Albemarle. Eighty men are left on the island, including twenty-six taken out on the Albemarle when she sailed from Baltimore about May 28th.

The officers charge the late troubles to uperintendent Everett and Dr. Heffner, and accuse them of incompetency in the administration of their respective offices. Everett was to leave the island two days after the Albemarie sailed, and it is expected he will be met here at the company's office with charges of having been the cause of the recent refusal of the men to continue working. The majority of the colored men look healthy. Many were dressed in fine clothes, white shirts, and the latest designs in neckwear.

DEBATE ON THE DREEUND

London, July 9.-In the House of Con

English interests would be chiefly consulted in any concerted action that it might be necessary to take to meet unforeseen events. [Cheers.]

Mr. Labouchere insisted that Lord Salisbury was doing his best to envenom relations with France. This policy, he said, arose from a feeling that if the republic in France succeeded republicanism would spread abroad in Europe. ["Hear, hear!"]

The Government Co-Operating with the Provincial Authorities to Hold Grain.

St. Petersburg, July 9,—It is semi-of-ficially announced that if the harvest proves a failure the Government, co-operating with the public authorities, will provide ample means to ward off anything like a general famine. The large Government stores of grain, maintained for military purposes, can be distributed in the distressed regions. The Ministry of the Interior is preparing for the expected scarcity, and has sent officers to make a tour of the threatened districts. An inquiry is also proceeding in the grain centres to ascertain how far it may be necessary to restrict the exportation of corn. The latest reports from the grain districts are reassuring. Reports made to the Government represent the present inflation in prices as largely due to speculation. It is probable that the Government will intervene in order to put an end to the artificial embarrassment in the markets.

Norfolk the Scene of Preparation Sugesting the Inquiry.

Washinoron, July 9.—A letter has been received by a Government official here which appears to give color to the report that a revolutionary movement is being fomented in one of our neighboring republics. The writer says that a man calling himself Captain Annett has been engaged in Norfolk, Va., in shipping men for a tigasure hunt in Mexican waters. The Captain said he wanted only seventy-five men, but the writer is informed that he has shipped over two hundred. Moreover, he had learned that the vessel which is to carry the party is now secretly engaged in taking aboard a large quantity of arms and ammunition at a port on Long Island Sound. The writer says he does not want to get himself into trouble, and although he has signed to go on the expedition he will withdraw if there is any illegal act in contemplation. The officials here are not disposed to attach much importance to the communication, as they believe that a filibustering expedition would be conducted with more caution than appears to be shown in this case. They are also puzzled to guess the destination of the party if it should be of warlike intent; but the chances are even that it is meant to aid a revolution in either Haiti or Mexico.
